A minor in the School of Art & Design consists of a minimum of 15 credit hours. A minor may be completed either in art history or in studio art.

A minor in art history requires Art 201, 202 and three additional courses in art history at an advanced level.

A minor in studio art requires two courses selected from studio art foundation classes (ART 214, 215, 217, 218, or 219) and three courses in one of the art studio areas of emphasis (ceramics, fibers, graphic design, painting, photography, printmaking, or sculpture).

All coursework must be selected in consultation with an art faculty member responsible for that studio area of emphasis. That faculty member serves as an advisor, and the School of Art & Design director verifies coursework and approves minors.
