  3. Confidentiality Flag – Bob Walker stated that the BANNER Oversight Committee (BOC) had requested that all users groups discuss the use of the Confidentiality Flag in BANNER. Bob explained that the Confidentiality Flag was used to indicate if the person did not want their directory information (mail address, email address, phone number) released to the general public. Bob further explained that the BOC was interested in what other ways that departments were using this flag.
     Terri Tomblin-Byrd stated that historically directory information about students who graduated from Marshall was given to the Alumni/Development office without checking the Confidentiality Flag. Terri asked if this was a violation of the FERPA regulations. Mike McGuffey stated that this question should probably be presented to our FERPA representative for clarification.
