

The Criminal Justice Department provides undergraduate and graduate students with high quality criminal justice education to prepare them for future success in:

- Public Service (including law enforcement, courts and administration, probation, parole, jails and prisons, juvenile justice, victims' services, and training/teaching)
- Law School
- Graduate School
- Private Sector (including loss prevention, security and corrections)

A unique contribution of the Criminal Justice Department is to develop students' intellectual abilities, critical thinking skills, research skills, language/communication skills, and problem solving skills within a broadly-based exposure to the study of law, the legal system, and the practical realities of how social, economic, and political contexts influence the roles of professionals/practitioners and also the operation of the criminal justice system.

The Criminal Justice Department is also committed to:

- (1) applied and basic research;
- (2) leadership in public service to the community;
- (3) educating students in forensics, developing insight into multicultural and global issues.

Criminal Justice majors must fulfill the general requirements of the College of Liberal Arts. In addition, the student must select one concentration area (Professional Career Studies or Legal Studies) and one specialization, such as Law Enforcement, Corrections, Forensic Science, Juvenile Justice, Victims' Rights and Services, or Security Management. For a current list of available specializations, contact the Criminal Justice Department Chairperson.
