Attendance Policy

The emphasis of this course is on communication. You must be willing to participate and seek feedback from your instructor and peers in order to improve your communication skills, therefore, it is essential that you attend class and take part in exercises and assignments. It is highly likely that missing classes will (a) prevent you from understanding expectations for assignments and will result in a reduction in your ability to earn high scores on your oral and written assignments and (b) will make learning the content of your text book and workbook more difficult and so will result in a reduction in your midterm and final exam scores as well.

Absences that are approved by the University will be excused when the student reports and verifies them with the instructor. You must contact your instructor about any absence and make arrangements for make-up work. Make-up work will be permitted at the discretion of the instructor. Failure to notify your instructor promptly may result in your not getting credit for missed assignments and not being able to make-up missed make up missed work, you must contact me promptly when you have missed a class during which assignments are due.

Making-Up Missed Presentations:

Students may be permitted to make-up one missed presentation without a university approved excuse. If you are given permission to make-up a missed presentation, it can only be rescheduled one time and it must be given within two class periods of the missed presentation. Any subsequent unexcused missed presentations cannot be rescheduled and you and will receive a zero for both the missed presentation and the preparation outline for that presentation. All presentations must be given in class for your peers (not to your instructor in her office).
