23 October 2015

Meeting commenced at 3:05 pm

Club Announcements

*Our book and bake sale begins tomorrow! It starts at 10 am and lasts until 4 pm. If you are able, please meet at B14 in the basement of Old Main around 9:30am tomorrow to help transport the books to the Student Center. This can be a tedious task and help would be greatly appreciated! Also, if you are bringing baked goods, you can just drop them off at the table in the Student Center at your earliest convenience tomorrow. Here are the sign up sheets that I collected at the meeting this past Friday. If you were unable to attend and want to help in some way, feel free to bring whatever and come to help whenever you like!

Plans and Events

* We have decided that we are going to make our trip to Moundsville a one-day adventure, for the majority of activities that we hoped to engage in on that Sunday in Pittsburgh will be closed. We will plan on leaving Huntington early in the morning on Saturday, November 21st, and spend that day exploring what Moundsville has to offer until we drive back to Huntington in the evening.

*It was a general consensus that we could host our movie screening on the wednesday of dead week, so as to provide a nice respite from the dread of studying for final exams. We will vote for the movie that will be screened next week, with Indiana Jones, The Gods Must be Crazy, and Jurassic World currently on the ballot.

*Lexie will also be hosting a stress relief program in Twin Towers East on the Tuesday of dead week. This program includes stress-relief ball making and some tasty foods. Make sure to check it out!

*This coming Friday, Dr. Suzanne Strait will be visiting our club meeting to talk about her study abroad program to Peru in the summer of 2016. Make sure to come to the meeting if you are interested in this experience, for it would be a great opportunity to ask questions and learn how to apply.

Meeting concluded at 3:48 pm
