

The Glenwood Estate Symposium

* Saturday, July 28, 2007 ****

Please join us for an exploration of the Glenwood Estate and its relationship to the historical development of Charleston and the Kanawha Valley.

WHAT

We'll report on the ongoing work of the "Glenwood Project," and will feature presentations on Glenwood's significance to local, regional and national history, the material culture and artifacts associated with Glenwood, the use of Glenwood history in the classroom, and much more!

WHEN and WHERE

Saturday, 28 July 2007, 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. , Marshall University Graduate College, South Charleston, main administration building, Room 319. There will be a morning and afternoon session with a light lunch for all participants. The symposium will include an optional tour of the house.

WHO

Keynote addresses by Eugene Harper and Billy Joe Peyton.

Reports and brief presentations by Henry Battle, Anne "Jake" Ferris, Leska Foster, Luke Eric Lassiter, Angelica Settle, Will Updike, and Kemp Winfree.

HOW

This symposium is free and open to the public. But space is limited! For reservations, contact the Glenwood Symposium Coordinator, Sarah Funk, via funk2@marshall.edu or phone (leave message) at 304-746-8975. If calling, please include name and mailing address.

Reservations must be made no later than July 16, 2007.

This symposium is part of the MU Graduate Humanities Program's "Glenwood Project," made possible with financial assistance from the West Virginia Humanities Council, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this course do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

