

Religious Liberty: For Some or For All?

A Symposium Exploring the Freedom, Threats, and Future of Religious Beliefs and Practices in America.

Featured Speakers

“Civil Religion”

Clayton McNearney
Religious Studies, Marshall University

“Religion and the Bush Administration”

Gerald Beller
Political Science, West Virginia State University

“Religious Liberty and the Law”

Andrew Schneider
American Civil Liberties Union – WV

“Dangerous Religions: Who Decides?”

John Richards
Sociology, West Virginia State University

Panel Discussion to Follow

Luke Eric Lassiter, Moderator
Graduate Humanities Program, Marshall University

Monday, November 14, 2005
7-9 PM

Marshall University Graduate College
South Charleston Campus
MU Graduate College Administration Building, Room 319

*Co-sponsored by the West Virginia Interfaith Center for Public Policy, WVSU’s National Center for Human Relations, MU’s
Graduate Humanities Program, and MU’s Department of Religious Studies.*