
IN MEMORIAM

Francis T. (Terry) Miller, one of the pioneering psychologists in rural mental health and rural community research, passed away on April 1, 1983. Dr. Miller was an Associate Professor in the Division of Community Psychiatry at the University of North Carolina — Chapel Hill, and a consulting editor for the Journal of Rural Community Psychology. His ideas, enthusiasm, and contributions will be greatly missed. Our condolences are extended to his family, friends, and colleagues.

Editorial Board
