

A QUICK-GUIDE FOR CITATION: MLA

This quick-guide provides selected examples of frequently used citation formats. For additional examples, consult the complete style manual, MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, 7th edition, available from Reserves.

Parenthetical documentation

MLA style uses parenthetical documentation to cite quotations or paraphrases from a cited work. For example,

The poem is often interpreted as “a profound testament to the loss of her longtime companion” (Workman 134-36).

Workman argues that the poem is primarily a statement of loss (134-36).

Each parenthetical reference corresponds to an entry in the Works Cited page at the end of the paper where a reader can locate full bibliographic information. For detailed discussion of parenthetical documentation see sections 6.1-6.5 in the MLA Handbook.

Works cited references are double-spaced with a hanging indent and are arranged alphabetically by author’s last name.
