News: The OWL Project

Friday, November 13, 2009

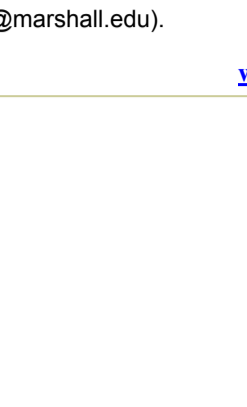

A Marshall faculty member is attempting to bridge the gap between generations. Dr. Donna Sullivan launched the Older & Wiser Letter Project (OWL) to spark cross-generational conversations about the aging process between current and past Marshall students. More information...

Meet the Faculty: Dr. Donna Sullivan

Dr. Donna Sullivan is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology. As a Social Gerontologist, her research explores the productive activities of senior citizens. Specifically, she focuses on how the internet plays a role in their social interaction through the use of social networking communities. Her latest activity, the OWL Project, seeks to initiate a dialog to talk about life and aging between different generations of Marshall students. More information...

Library Resource: Hiring for Excellence

Utah State University produced the DVD "Hiring for Excellence" to aid search committees. Covering the search process from the beginning (writing the job advertisement) to the end (post-interview evaluation of the candidates), this DVD provides professionally acted simulations as training tools for recruitment. A copy of the DVD is available for loan in the MU-ADVANCE office (S-200A).

Recommendations or suggestions for additional resources for the MU-ADVANCE Office can be sent to Heidi Williams: (willi143@marshall.edu).
