

Ethical and Civic Thinking Outcome of Marshall's Baccalaureate Degree Profile

Ethical and Civic Thinking: Students will determine the origins of core beliefs and ethical principles, evaluate the ethical basis of professional rules and standards of conduct, evaluate how academic theories and public policy inform one another to support civic well-being, and analyze complex ethical problems to address competing interests.

Trait 1: Ethical Self-Awareness: Determine the origins of core beliefs and ethical principles.

Trait 2: Professional Rules and Standards of Conduct: Evaluate the ethical basis of professional rules and standards of conduct.

Trait 3: Civic Well-Being: Evaluate how academic theories and public policy inform one another to support civic well-being.

Trait 4: Complex Ethical Issues: Analyze complex ethical problems to address competing interests.