

CD 370L

Field Experience: Speech & Language

Faculty Member

Sandra Kemper

Department

Communication Disorders

Student Purpose

To learn and implement language stimulation techniques in the preschool population.

Community Impact

To provide speech and language stimulation to preschool children; offers daycare workers the opportunity to observe new speech/language-related activities.

Community Partners

- Kiwanis Daycare
- Playmates Child Care Center
- Trinity Church of God Preschool
- Enslow Park Presbyterian Preschool

Student Quote

“This course allowed me to gain necessary skills for my future, while giving back to my community simultaneously.”

Community Partner Quote

“We loved having our ‘Marshall Friends’ visit us each week. The students created and implemented various engaging activities for the preschoolers to take part in. The students, teachers and staff loved having them there.”

Faculty Quote

“CBL principles are utilized within CD 370 L to promote civic engagement and provide an opportunity for students to gain valuable hands-on experience. Students in this course utilize specific speech-language stimulation techniques while engaging in literacy and play-based activities with local preschoolers.

As a faculty member, I have noticed improvement with student engagement with course material and content. CBL experiences have also offered numerous opportunities for active discussions during class time.”

Community-Based Learning Program

304.696.3577

marshall.edu/cbl

cbl@marshall.edu

COMMUNITY-BASED LEARNING PROGRAM