DBA Residency Visitation

Students in the Doctor of Business program participated in their second residency of this academic year. During the Friday and Saturday event, students attended classes and presented research ideas and concepts. In addition, the residencies offer students opportunities to get advice from leaders and faculty. On Friday, President Brad D. Smith spoke to students about the importance of practical research that solves problems. That afternoon, Dr. Alan Letton discussed the importance of funding research through grants and corporate donations. Building on these concepts, Provost Avi Mukherjee spoke to the group on Saturday about the iterations of applied research as well as the current state of the University.
