Joffrey's Coffee Visits SBUS

Last Thursday, the Student Center for the Public Trust hosted a visitation from the CEO and Vice President of Marketing for Joffrey's Coffee & Tea Company as part of the Guy Spriggs Dean's Speaker Series in the Encova Auditorium!

With over 180 students in attendance, including members of Huntington High's FBLA Chapter, Marshall University undergraduate and graduate students, Marshall Foundation representatives, Lewis

College of Business Staff, and Faculty. The event sparked great discussion, with the speakers going over the allotted time so that they could answer all of the student questions during the Q & A.

The Lewis College of Business would like to thank CEO Ted Abrams, VP of Marketing Giovanni Gutierrez, and Rob Montaudo for joining us to provide some excellent insight into their company and relationship with Disney. We would also like to thank Guy Spriggs, Lance West and the Marshall Foundation for providing financial support to make these events happen.

Congratulations to our incredible members of the Student Center for the Public Trust and Beta Gamma Sigma, Maddy Branham and Evan Francis, who worked tirelessly to make this event happen. The success of this event highlights that our students are multifaceted, professional, responsible individuals who make things happen!
