CENTER FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING

Stay tuned to our homepage for program updates, registration, and deadlines!

When: September 12, 2025 | 2:30-3:30
Where: Drinko Library, Room 349
Info: John Marshall Leadership Fellows Page
Registration: Not required

Are you curious about the John Marshall Leadership Fellows Program? Do you wonder what it takes to participate in the program? If you're interested, please join us for this informational session and get your questions answered. Applications to participate in the 2026 Cohort are due September 26, 2025.

When: Saturday, September 20, 2025 | 10:30-2:00
Where: Virtual via Teams
Info: Certification in College Teaching
Registration: Required to receive a Teams link

Do you know a graduate student interested in earning a Certification in College Teaching? The Center for Teaching and Learning's CCT Super Saturday offers a wide variety of professional development experiences in support of teaching and learning. The goal of the program is to provide support to our graduate students as they develop effective teaching strategies and to help them prepare for teaching after graduation.

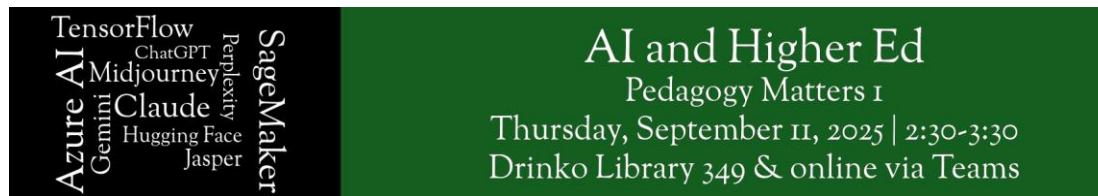

When: Monday, September 22-October 24, 2025
Where: Virtual via Blackboard
Info: WAC Fall Activities
Registration: Required to receive a Teams link

Are you teaching a Writing Intensive (WI) course this spring but still need to complete your initial WAC certification? Our professional development module is designed for you! Get your initial certification with our asynchronous, online module via Blackboard beginning on September 22 and culminating with the WAC Fall Workshop on October 24.

When: September 11, 2025 | 2:30-3:30
Where: Drinko Library, Room 349 & online via Teams
Info: CTL Pedagogy Matters Webpage
Registration: Required to receive the Teams link

Join us for a lively one-hour workshop designed to lay out what's going on with AI and Higher Ed right now. We'll take a peek into the cool, somewhat terrifying tech and how it can be used right now to "help" students do homework, take exams and write papers (aka do the work for them), as well as the many difficulties in detecting this "help." We'll also look at some of the new ways educators are reorganizing their syllabi, rethinking their assignments, and reconsidering what knowledge and skills they want their students to know in the face of this very powerful, quickly evolving technology.

When: Mondays – Sept 22, Oct 20, and Nov 17 | 12-12:50
Where: Virtual via Teams
Info: Research Mentorship CoP
Registration: Required to receive a Teams link

The Center for Teaching and Learning is excited to invite you to our Fall 2025 Lunch and Learn Community of Practice (CoP) focused on research mentorship for undergraduate and graduate students. This initiative aims to foster collaboration, share best practices, and enhance the mentorship experience for both students and mentors. Registration for the first session closes September 10th!

When: Wednesdays, Sept 17, Oct 15, Nov 19, Dec 10
Where: Old Main 109
Info: CTL Communities of Practice
Registration: Not required, just drop in!

Drop In. De-Stress. Recharge. Connect.

Take a midweek pause and join us for 🌿 Wellness Wednesday 🌿 ! These informal, drop-in sessions are designed to support your well-being with relaxing activities, light refreshments, and meaningful conversations. Whether you need a moment of calm, a burst of energy, or just a change of pace, you're welcome here.

Come as you are, no registration required, drop in at any of the following times:
- September 17 | 2-3:30 pm
- October 15 | 10-11:30 am
- November 19 | 3-4:30 pm
- December 10 | 10-11:30 am

Center for Teaching and Learning

304.696.2206
marshall.edu/ctl
ctl@marshall.edu