

CENTER FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING

Stay tuned to our homepage for event updates, registration, and deadlines!

TOMORROW!

Artists, Scholars, & Innovators
"Drafting, Editing, and Imagination"
John K. Young, 2025 Hedrick Outstanding Faculty Award Recipient
Thursday, October 16, 2025 | 4-5 pm | Drinko Library 349 & on Teams

When: October 16, 2025 | 4-5pm

Where: Drinko Library 349 & Teams

Info: CTL ASI Page

Registration: Encouraged to receive the link & updates

Want to learn how authors, editors, and even you, "world" a story and "story" the world? Join us for a fascinating lecture with Dr. Young as he explores how different writers have built their fictional worlds, revealing how these choices shape our understanding of our own reality. This talk will challenge you to consider how we might revise the narratives of American culture and history.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Writing Across the Curriculum
Certification & Recertification Workshop
October 24, 2025 | 9am-3pm | Virtual

When: October 24, 2025 | 9am-3pm

Where: Virtual

Info: WAC Events Page

Registration: Required

This workshop is required for first-time and renewed certification for faculty teaching a Writing Intensive (WI) designated course in the Spring 2026 semester. Just curious about the WAC program? You're welcome to attend as well!

Pedagogy Matters III: Mind the Gap

Friday, November 7
1:30-2:30
Online via Teams

When: November 7, 2025 | 1:30-2:30

Where: Online via Teams

Info: Pedagogy Matters Page

Registration: Required

Ever had a student's face suddenly light up—not because they finally memorized something, but because they finally got it? In every field, there are a few concepts that don't just add to what students know—they flip the entire script. These are threshold concepts—those moments when the fog clears, and suddenly things make sense... Now they're not just reciting facts; they're seeing the bigger picture, making connections, and actually thinking like someone in the field. Join us for a workshop on helping students (and maybe ourselves) cross those thresholds with more grace and less frustration. We'll talk about liminality, tripping over concepts, stuck places, and teaching strategies for those moments when comprehension wobbles before it stabilizes.

When: Wednesdays, Nov 19, Dec 10

Where: Old Main 109

Info: CTL Communities of Practice

Registration: Not required, just drop in!

Drop In. De-Stress. Recharge. Connect.

Take a midweek pause and join us for 🌱 Wellness Wednesday 🌱 ! These informal, drop-in sessions are designed to support your well-being with relaxing activities, light refreshments, and meaningful conversations. Whether you need a moment of calm, a burst of energy, or just a change of pace, you're welcome here.

Come as you are, no registration required, drop in at any of the following times:

- November 19 | 3-4:30 pm
- December 10 | 10-11:30 am

Center for Teaching and Learning

304.696.2206

marshall.edu/ctl

ctl@marshall.edu