NOTE FROM THE CHIEF

The Marshall University Police Department

At Marshall University, our concern for the safety and well-being of our students, faculty, and staff is always a top priority. With the support of personnel from other departments, we have hundreds of people involved in our goal of maintaining a safe and secure campus. However, please remember that a truly safe campus can only be achieved through the efforts and cooperation of all students, faculty, and staff who accept responsibility for their security and the security of others. This publication is part of our ongoing effort to ensure this collective endeavor is effective. Please read it carefully and use the information to aid in fostering a safe environment for yourself and all others in the University community.

- Reporting and Support: Confidential handling of reports, support services, and compliance with West Virginia’s legal framework for protective orders.
- Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) System: practical self-defense tactics with essential awareness, prevention and risk reduction strategies.

CONCLUSION

Marshall University is dedicated to maintaining a safe and secure environment for all students, faculty, and staff. To achieve this, the university emphasizes community involvement and actively encourages participation in safety initiatives. Key efforts include community policing, educational programs, and robust crime reporting systems.

Public safety is supported by 24/7 patrol services from certified law enforcement officers on both the Main and Medical Sciences campuses, as well as partnerships with local law enforcement agencies at satellite campuses. The MUPD hotline, campus emergency phones, and usage of the anonymous line help to facilitate crime reporting across all campus locations.

Additionally, the university maintains the MU Alert System for emergency notifications and regularly participates in evaluation drills to ensure preparedness. These comprehensive measures reflect the University’s commitment to Marshall Creed.
