

Marshall University
School of Nursing
Program Outcomes

Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) Certification Pass Rates

In order to practice as a FNP individuals must pass a certification exam upon graduating from a FNP program. FNP graduates may choose to take either the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANNCC) - FNP exam or the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Board (AANPCB) - FNP exam. The table below shows the aggregate pass rate for MSN-FNP graduates taking either exam for the first time. Expected Level of Achievement (ELO) = 80%

2015	2016	2017
86.36%	90.6%	84.84%

Program Completion Rates

Program Completion rates are the percentage of student completing the program within 150% of program length, beginning with the first nursing course.

ELA 80% (2016-2017)	2011 Admits/Graduated by Fall 2015	2012 Admits/Graduated by Fall 2016	2013 Admits/Graduated by Fall 2017
ELA 60% (2018)	97%	95%	76%

Employment rates

Employment Rates is defined as percentage of graduates responding to the survey employed in a role related to areas of emphasis within 6-12 months after graduation, excluding those who have returned to formal education. ELA=90%

Year	Job Placement Rate	Number of Surveys Distributed	Number of Surveys Returned	Response Rate
2017	81.25%	38	16	42.1%
2016	100%	40	7	17.5%
2015	100%	96	33	34.37%