

Important Information about Merit Scholarships

Marshall University offers a variety of merit-based scholarships to students who demonstrate outstanding academic achievement.

Merit-based scholarship programs require that you be enrolled full time and maintain a minimum GPA. Only U.S. citizens and U.S. Permanent Resident Aliens qualify for Marshall University merit-based scholarship programs.

Most scholarships are renewable, but some are not. In order for you to continue receiving renewable scholarships, you must continue to meet the scholarship criteria as described in the messages in your Financial Aid Package in your myMU (MILO) account.

Admission Application Deadline

Incoming students must be accepted for admission to be considered for University Merit-based Scholarships.

| Scholarship | Admission Acceptance Deadline |
|--|-------------------------------|
| Society of Yeager Scholars | January 6 |
| Scholarships for Honors College Students: John Marshall, Mary Willis Marshall, Board of Governors and John Laidley | May 1 |
| Most Other Marshall University Scholarships, unless otherwise specified | August 1 |

It is important that you read each scholarship description carefully for deadline information and any additional rules for applying.

Last Date to take SAT or ACT

To be considered for Marshall University merit-based scholarships, 2014 fall semester incoming freshmen must take the ACT or SAT by the dates specified below:

| Scholarship | Test Date | Test Registration Deadline |
|--|---|--|
| Society of Yeager Scholars | ACT: December 14, 2013 SAT: December 7, 2013 | ACT: November 8, 2013 SAT: November 8, 2013 |
| Scholarships for Honors College Students: John Marshall, Mary Willis Marshall, Board of Governors and John Laidley | ACT: April 12, 2014 SAT: March 8, 2014 | ACT: March 7, 2014 SAT: Feb 7, 2013 |
| Most Other Marshall Scholarships | ACT: June 14, 2014 SAT: June 7, 2014 | ACT: May 9, 2014 SAT: May 9, 2014 |

For more information on ACT Test dates visit www.actstudent.org/regist/dates.html. For SAT, visit www.collegeboard.com/student/testing/sat/calenefees.html.

Submit FAFSA by March 1 Priority Deadline

Students demonstrating financial need may be eligible for additional scholarships. File the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by the priority deadline of March 1 to be considered for all scholarships and need-based financial assistance.

March 1 is deadline for WV Promise Scholarship

To qualify for the Society of Yeager Scholarships Program or qualify for Honors College Scholarships, WV residents must also submit WV Promise Scholarship Application by March 1. To apply for this scholarship, visit www.cfww.com.

Renewal Criteria

Eligibility for institutional scholarship renewal is checked at the end of the spring semester. Should a student fall short of meeting the requirements of scholarship renewal, it is advisable that he/she meet with a financial aid counselor in the Office of Student Financial Assistance to inquire about the consequences and options. Scholarship recipients may take courses during the summer to make up a deficiency with credits or GPA. In this instance, students must contact the Office of Student Financial Assistance when the summer course(s) are completed. However, at the start of the fall semester, if the student fails to meet all scholarship renewal criteria, the award is cancelled and will no longer be available to the student.

Combining Scholarship Awards

In all cases, the total amount a student is awarded cannot exceed the cost of a Marshall University education. In some instances, when Title IV (certain Federal Financial Aid programs) and WV Higher Education Grant Programs are awarded, students are limited to receive grants and scholarships up to the student's demonstrated financial need.

If you are not living on campus, your institutional scholarships may not exceed tuition, fees and an additional $1,000. Should you choose to live off campus and your institutional scholarships exceed this amount, your institutional scholarship awards may be reduced. This does not include other scholarships and financial aid you may receive from federal, state, and external sources unless those funds have specific restrictions.

Student athletes who have been offered an academic scholarship should discuss the award with a financial aid counselor in the Office of Student Financial Assistance to determine whether or not the scholarship can be accepted. Under NCAA rules, student athletes are limited in the amount of institutional gift aid they may receive. Institutional aid includes both athletic scholarships and institutional merit scholarships.

Outside Scholarships

Outside scholarships are processed by the Office of the Bursar. You may be asked to come to the Office of the Bursar to endorse a check as some are made out to Marshall University and the student. Outside scholarship funds will be applied to your account just like institutional scholarship awards after the outside scholarship check has been cashed. Outside scholarships are considered a source of financial aid and follow the same rules under the Combining Scholarship Awards section of this menu.

Scholarship Funding Source Replacement

Marshall University has the right to replace an awarded scholarship with another named scholarship to maximize funding sources. Such changes will not reduce the amount of the student's scholarship, and in some cases, may actually result in an increase to a student's scholarship amount.

Holding Scholarships for Interrupted Attendance

Marshall University may hold a student's scholarship if his/her attendance is interrupted for medical reason, military deployment, or other extenuating circumstances provided the student continues to meet the eligibility requirements. The student must submit an appeal to the Office of Student Financial Assistance and submit verification of reason for leaving (i.e. doctor note, military deployment notification). A student who transfers to another college or university does not qualify for scholarship reinstatement after a break in attendance at Marshall University.

Thank You Letter Requirement

Recipients of Marshall University Endowed and Annual Scholarships are required to submit a thank you letter to their scholarship donor(s).

Below are guidelines for writing thank you letters:

Your letter should—

- Use a formal salutation including the appropriate prefixes and suffixes.
Example: Dear Dr. and Mrs. McKoy
- Include a personal thank you referring to the specific scholarship you received.
- Include information about your interests and activities, what the scholarship means to you, and your educational and career goals.
- Sign your letter.

Once you have written your letter—

- Prepare an envelope with your scholarship name, but do not seal the envelope.
- Send your letter with the unsealed envelope(s) to:

Marshall University
Foundation Hall
519 John Marshall Drive
Huntington, WV 25703

These letters are greatly appreciated by the donors. Student thank you letters have great influence on the future generosity of scholarship donors for Marshall University students. Please take the time to edit your letter and make it special.
