POLICY AND RESOURCES

Green Zone Training
Green Zone training is for faculty and staff that wish to learn more about the military affiliated student experience. Contact mccormick33@marshall.edu for more information.

Excused Absence Policy
• Attendance: the university recognizes the right of the individual professor to make attendance mandatory. Clearly communicate your attendance policy in your course syllabus.
• Any student who seeks an excused absence must provide documentation immediately following the event/activity/incident by submitting this request form and appropriate supporting materials to the Division of Student Affairs. Instructors are required to honor valid University Excused Absences and to provide reasonable and equitable means for students to make up work missed as a result of those absences.
• Academic obligations that cannot be made up should be addressed by the course instructor in consultation with the student to ensure that continued enrollment is feasible while there is still an opportunity to drop the course within the established withdrawal period. Visit the Undergraduate Catalog for the full policy. www.marshall.edu/academic-affairs/policies#ExcusedAbsences

(Hered Aware) Mental Health First Aid
Mental Health First Aid is an 8-hour course that teaches you how to identify, understand and respond to signs of mental illnesses and substance use disorders. The course gives you the skills you need to reach out and provide initial help and support to someone who may be developing a mental health or substance use problem or experiencing a crisis. To schedule a training for your faculty & staff, email miller138@marshall.edu

Sexual Misconduct
Marshall is committed to maintaining an environment free from sexual harassment. Sexual assault is a criminal form of sexual harassment. The sexual assault of a student and/or sexual harassment should be reported directly to MUPD and the Title IX Coordinator, 304-696-2597, www.marshall.edu/eroa/title-ix

Safe Zone Training
Safe Zone training is a 2-hour training that focuses on LGBTQ+ awareness, and the opportunity to learn about LGBTQ+ identities and topics and discusses privilege, prejudice, and discrimination. This Training is meant to spread awareness and learning, and participants/organizations will receive a Safe Zone Sticker to indicate one has received the training and standing for equality for all. Email polk4@marshall.edu for more information.

College Recovery Community
College Recovery Community provides programs that support and encourage students in or seeking long-term recovery from addiction (to alcohol, drugs, or to activities such as gambling or over-eating). 304-696-5702

Marshall University is committed to the physical and emotional well-being of our students. We all play a part by noticing concerning behavior and responding. By sharing your concerns and intervening early you can assist in our students succeeding. This folder is designed to help you recognize indicators of student distress and how to respond and refer the student appropriately.

SEE | Awareness
Personal and academic challenges may lead to distress in undergraduate and graduate students. You are in a unique position to identify students who may be in need of help.

SAY | Communication
Sharing your concern directly with the student or reaching out to campus and community partners can be an important first step in helping a student access help and services. Our campus partners can help ensure the safety of the student and our campus and provide a coordinated response.

DO | Engagement
Students may not know that help is available, or where to find it. Reach out to a student who you believe to be in distress, using the guidelines provided below.

DANGEROUS STUDENT
Safety of the student and/or other members of the Marshall community is an immediate concern; verbal or physical threats to harm others, Active threats of suicide and resists help.

• If student is on campus and Dangerous or threatening harm to self or Others
• Call MUPD at 304-696-HELP. Also notify the Vice President for Student Affairs at 304-696-6422 or studentaffairs@marshall.edu

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)
The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) permits communication about a student of concern with a health and safety emergency. Observations of a student’s conduct or statements made by a student are not FERPA protected. Such information should be shared with appropriate consideration for student privacy.
HELPING STUDENTS IN DISTRESS

Q. What are warning signs of disruptive student behavior? Disruptive or disturbing students exhibit behaviors that signify an obvious crisis and necessitate more immediate intervention. Examples include:

- Highly disruptive behavior (e.g., verbal hostility, aggression, disregard for classroom decorum and expected conduct, etc.); failure to comply with corrective feedback
- Inability to communicate clearly (garbled, pressured speech, disorganized, confused, or rambling thoughts)
- Loss of contact with reality (seeing or hearing things which others cannot see or hear; irrational beliefs or fears that others may be conspiring against them)
- Suicidal thoughts and/or threats to harm others (may be communicated orally or in written formats through email, assignments, or on social network or academic sites)

Q. How should I respond to a disruptive or disturbing student?

- If immediate safety is a concern or the person acts in a highly irrational or disruptive way, call MUPD
- 304-696-4357 (HELP) and also notify the Vice President for Student Affairs
- If safety is not a concern, attempt to de-escalate the situation; offer to find someone to assist in
- problem-solving; meet and discuss solutions
- Talk with your supervisor for additional assistance
- Consult with the Student Counseling Center, Division of Student Affairs, and MUPD

Students’ Rights and Responsibilities

The Students’ Rights and Responsibilities (Student Code of Conduct) outlines the standards and expectations for students’ conduct and behavior as a Marshall University student. The Rights and Responsibilities can be found at www.marshall.edu/student-conduct/files/2300_Student_Conduct.pdf

TROUBLED STUDENT FAQ

Q. What are some signs a student may be troubled? Students in distress may not be disruptive to others, but may exhibit behaviors which indicate something is problematic. They may also be reluctant or unable to acknowledge a need for personal help. Behaviors may include:

- Marked changes in academic performance
- Tardiness and excessive absences inconsistent with prior history
- Withdrawal from and/or avoidance of participation, increased anxiety around exams or deadlines, difficulty working in teams
- Changes in emotional states, e.g., sadness, crying, lethargy, irritability, rapid speech, preoccupied, increased and more intense disagreement with peers and instructor, sense of confusion
- Changes in physical well-being, e.g., swollen eyes from crying, increased illnesses, poor self-hygiene, rapid weight loss/gain, sleeping in class
- Repeated requests for special consideration, e.g., assignment extensions, changes in requirements, grade changes, anger, domination of discussion, derailing the focus of discourse

Q. How should I respond to a student that is troubled?

- Communication in either oral, written, or electronic formats that may suggest a threat to one’s self or others
- Address the situation on an individual level; consider having someone meet with you and student
- Avoid offering confidentiality to the student should they wish to talk
- Deal directly with the behavior according to classroom protocol; provide corrective feedback and offer to help
- Encourage the student to use campus and community helping resources; offer to walk the student to assistance or call and make an appointment
- Inform and consult with your supervisor and the Division of Student Affairs
