Introduction to Marshall For All Team

Work Study: Lindsay Freeman

Work Study: Maddie Snyder

Tuition Free vs. Debt Free

Tuition Free

- Covers tuition only
- Managed by Financial Aid, not Marshall For All
- No required courses
- For any WV resident whose annual family income is less than $65,000
- Still has outstanding balance after all grants and scholarships

Debt Free

- Covers tuition, room and board, fees, and books
- Randomly selected from students who are admitted for fall 2026, registered for orientation, and have FAFSA on file (no application process or referrals)
- 2 required courses (UNI 103 and 204)
- Must maintain 2.0 GPA
- Must maintain 67% completion ratio
- Complete 30 credit hours per academic year

Financial Aspects

How is amount of Marshall
For All aid determined?
(tuition + fees + room and board) - (scholarships + grants + additional aid)

Marshall For All does not affect parents or students tax forms as it is a last pay program

FAFSA must be completed
all 4 years

Marshall For All contract must be signed the first year

What is Return to Title IV?

- Federal policy that requires the return of financial aid for students who totally withdraw during the semester
- Amount of financial aid that must be returned differs depending on the point at which the student drops out
- Return to Title IV applies to federal, state, and institutional aid

Total Withdrawal

- Total Withdrawal is when a student drops all courses, online or in person, and is no longer enrolled at Marshall University
- Financial aid will be lost and Return to Title IV will take effect*
- If a M4A student is trying to withdraw, try to keep them minimally enrolled, that way they can still have M4A if they choose to return
- If a student completely withdraws from Marshall University, they will permanently lose Marshall For All

*Exception may apply

Please be aware of our Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Policy

To remain in the program, students must:

Maintain full-time enrollment

Complete enough hours to stay on track for four-year graduation

Avoid unnecessary course drops or failures as these can negatively impact their GPA and progress

Additional Academic Progress & Program Requirements

To stay in the program students must maintain the set requirements, including certain GPA, courses, credit hours, and work experience.

In the event of a leave of absence or complete withdrawal from a semester, students are subject to dismissal from the program. While they may appeal, all committee decisions are FINAL.

If there is a situation, don't wait! Schedule an appointment with our office right away so we can address it promptly and prevent any negative impact. The longer they wait or avoid the issue, the harder it becomes to manage.
